

NEW SCHOOL VOTED IN SHOPPING CENTER DEFEATED

Wilmington

WILMINGTON: By a unanimous vote at Monday's town meeting, the Town will have a new 25-room intermediate school in North Wilmington which supposedly will be ready by September of 1962.

Had just a majority vote been necessary, Wilmington would now be on its way to having a new shopping center located at the intersection of West & Lowell Streets. However, the 279 voters who favored the issue lost the motion to the 274 who opposed it, because an article of this sort requires at least a two-thirds majority.

The sum of fifty thousand dollars was cut from the school appropriation upon a recommendation of the finance committee. This action was taken on an amendment following a lengthy debate during which Mr. Curtin of the finance committee accused members of the permanent building committee of withholding information necessary to them prior to the town meeting. Mr. Babcock of Woburn St. stated that he felt the discussion of a few minor financial items appearing on a brochure provided, was unnecessary. He felt that such things should have been thrashed out beforehand by the boards which represent the people. (To Mr. Babcock's statement there was general agreement.)

Following a few explanatory remarks by officials, including Superintendent of Schools Harold Shea, the school was unanimously voted in, less $50,000, making the total appropriation at this time one million, fifty thousand.

(It seemed a little odd that only one man asked about the effect of the school on the tax rate and his question was asked before the motion to amend had been voted upon. He was told not to worry about taxes when the article was only to amend - to ask his question later when things were set. The query was not made again.)

Article 4, regarding the moving of Mr. Cowie's house from a site practically surrounded by the new school to a piece of town-owned land just north on Ballardvale St., was voted upon favorably following a brief discussion as to whether or not a simple 'land-swap' was wise. A few citizens felt that the property should be taken by eminent domain and that Mr. Cowie should make arrangements for buying his house back, locate his own new site and contract individually for the moving of the building. Mr. Belbin stated that if the State would not move buildings for people for fear of being sued, the Town should not leave itself 'wide open' for a law suit either. Mr. Belbin said he was not fighting against Mr. Cowie, but just wanted to do things in the right way, the way in which the State would do them. Mr. Beers of the planning board answered Mr. Belbin in a very few words - sometimes the State is very cruel; perhaps we as a Town should not be.

One citizen brought out the fact that there was an approximate ten-thousand-ft square difference in the size of the lot of land Mr. Cowie was giving up and the one he was being given - in Mr. Cowie's favor. Members of the permanent building committee explained that this was necessary as under the new zoning by-laws, 22,500 ft square is a legal lot in that area now. Mr. Courtney stated that perhaps there would have been some trouble with the planning board had we attempted to place the Cowies on an illegal lot.

It was interesting to note that the gentleman who had moved here three years ago from Iowa and was attending his first town meeting asked as his first official question in Wilmington, "What do you do with apartment for rent, 2 bedrooms, livingrm, mod.kit., bath, 1 car gar. $85/Mo. Costanza & Bertolino Inc. 148 Park St. No. Reading RE2-4300 NO4-4351"

At the termination of the long, heated (but orderly) discussion, Selectman John Brooke, in his usual calm manner, said more in about ten sentences than most of those present said in fifty minutes. "If you vote this article down because you don't feel it is right for the

DAIRY COUNSEL TO EXPAND

The Merrimack Valley Advisory Committee to the New England Dairy and Food Council met at Andover Inn yesterday at 7:30 p.m. Presiding was Theodore W. Emerson of Chelmsford.

Reported was the expansion of the Dairy Council program to include Wilmington, North Reading, Ayer, Lynnfield, Burlington, and Littleton. With the addition of these towns and others outside of the Merrimack Valley area, a dairy industry supported health program now operates in 134 Massachusetts communities.

Mrs. Linda Carliens is in charge of activities in the Merrimack Valley. An example of the Dairy Council's work in this area, she reported, is the program arrangement of a breakfast which took place on Nov. 16 for Georgetown Junior High students. Featured was a talk on nutrition and physical fitness by Captain Hammer of Hanscom Field in Bedford.

The Dairy Council works with a variety of educational and community leaders to provide factual information on nutrition and dairy foods. Its literature is based on research findings from recognized scientific investigations.

Santa Claus will fly into town Saturday, Dec. 3, landing at the Hillview Country Club at 9:30 a.m. The jolly gentleman will travel by car from the Country Club to the Country Fair at the Union Congregational Church, where he will spend the day meeting and greeting the children of North Reading.

The Fair will start Friday evening from 7-9:30 in the New Parish Hall, continuing on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., featuring movies and activities for the children and a large selection of gifts for Christmas shoppers. Mr. & Mrs. Kenneth Goddard are co-chairmen of the event.

This correspondent is most grateful for the gift of a First Day Cover from the greater Boston Camp Fire Girls. The official First Day Cover commemorates the the Camp Fire Girls National Golden Jubilee, marking fifty years of service to girls from 1910 to 1960.

Twenty citizens interested in the proposals of the Main St. Zoning Committee were present at Town Hall on November 22 to discuss the Committee's suggestions for deepening the zoning on Main St. from Lowell Rd. to the Andover line. The southerly portion of Main St. had been discussed at a previous hearing (also poorly attended).

Committee members John Tozier, Elmer Jones and Ralph Costanza presented to the group assembled the results of the five month study made by the Zoning Committee. Although the group was small, the discussion was brisk and many questions and suggestions were forthcoming. Town officials attending the hearing were Arthur Drinkwater, Earl Campbell and Chester Smith of the Planning Board; Selectman Charles V. Statuti, and Calvin Penney of the Board of Assessors.

On Friday, November 18, Miss Elizabeth Batchelder, Trustee of the Weeks Memorial Library, accompanied by Mrs. Harold Foster, Librarian, attended a meeting of the Merrimack Valley Library Association at the Topsfield Public Library. Dr. Edna McGlynn of Salem State Teachers College was the principal speaker, and chose as her topic, 'What We Must Know About Communism.' Luncheon was served at the new Trinity Episcopal Church in Topsfield.

Selectmen Dohen and Scatuti again went out for an early morning constitutional Saturday morning as they perambulated the Andover bounds with the selectmen of that town. Selectmen Sands and MacRae again weekendend at Police Chief Rodgers' New Hampshire retreat. Selectman Ryan apparently gets his exercise on the golf course.

Beverly Mosack was elected 'Football Queen' at the annual pre-Thanksgiving football rally Wednesday evening with Kathy Haines and Linda Pierce named as members of her court. The girls were appropriately 'pinned' with corsages by members of the squad at the Thanksgiving Football Dance sponsored by the YMCA and held at the Hillview Country Club Thanksgiving night.

The local 'Y' presented senior members of the squad with Hornet Patches at the dance. Mr. Lester Levy presented the patches to the football players while Miss Elizabeth Ryan presented patches to the cheerleaders. Bernie Dwyer, club manager, commented on the excellent behavior of the 200 or so teenagers assembled for the holiday dance.

The adult members of the local 'Y' who worked so hard to make this event a success are to be congratulated for their efforts on behalf of the youth of the community.

The School Committee and School Housing Committee held a joint meeting last Tuesday evening. After discussing the final item on the printed agenda, 'General discussion of post season game and bleacher situation', the meeting broke up about 9:35 p.m. The School Housing Comm. stated that they had further business to attend to and the two members of the School Committee who were present, Chas. Truman Barstow and Malcolm Stevens, said goodnight. Superintendent of Schools Coffin and High School Principal Edgar Craver were also present.

Yet, without a quorum, the School Committee invited the Bleacher Committee, via a telephone call around 9:50, to meet with them. When the Bleacher Committee arrived they were informed that the School Committee had decided against any form of a post season game. Bleacher Comm. Chairman Paul Donovan then requested that the votes be polled. A number of telephone calls were exchanged and about 10:30 Mrs. Eleanor Puzia arrived at the meeting to cast her vote, finally making a quorum. Mr. Shephard and Mr. Hassinger cast their votes via the telephone. Four members voted against any form of post-season game. Mr. Shephard stated that while he was definitely against a Florida Bowl game, as it would extend the season too long, he did not object to a post season game in the near future if it were acceptable to the Headmasters Association, and provided that it would not interfere with the academic achievements of the boys on the team.

While this correspondent has not looked into the pros and cons of post season football games, certainly most people will agree that scholastic efforts always should take precedence over sports. However, it seems rather unorthodox of the School Committee to meet with Bleacher Committee and state that they had reached a decision without a quorum in attendance and without their secretary present to record the minutes of their meeting.

It came as news to this correspondent that we have an organized hockey team in town. The North Reading Falcons. In fact this group placed second to Peabody's first in the recent competition in the Harvest League. Under the direction of George Margeson this team has been playing for about a year now, and is composed of high school boys. The team has had a struggle, since they are not sponsored or supported by any organization and have had to supply their own equipment and pay ice fees as well. They have 'rented' the ice in Lynn and Andover for practice sessions and games.

Speaking of ice, a public swimming pool which could be converted into an ice rink in the winter, would certainly be an asset to the town. This train of thought led this correspondent to contact Earl Donle, Chairman of the Youth Center Committee. Mr. Donle stated that the group became inactive pending the outcome of the Town attempt to take the Drinkwater land on Central Street by eminent domain. As this land is now out of the question, Mr. Donle states that committee plans to reorganize, possibly to meet this month.

The town would probably be ripe for another drive to swell the amount already collected (approx. $4,000) late this winter, particularly if the prospect of an adequate swimming place for the youngsters could conceivably become a reality next summer.

Perhaps some enterprising group could put into effect a fund raising system that is used at the Esplanade Concerts. That is, chairs could be rented to spectators at local football games and profits could be deposited in a fund for the erection of bleachers. Never say die!

Several senior English classes of the North Reading High School presented a symposium in conjunction with the Hallmark Hall of Fame television presentation of Shakespeare's tragedy 'Mac Beth', in the Shay Auditorium Sunday afternoon. The program, arranged for by Mrs. Stephanie Delaney, Head of the English Department, consisted of a panel discussion on aspects of the drama, exhibits of reproductions of Elizabethan theaters, and an evaluation discussion following the television presentation.

Those in attendance were enthusiastic in their praise of the students for the program presented and the obvious preparation and research work that had preceded it. It is ironical to note the few people who attended to witness the academic achievements of these seniors, some of whom are prominent members of the football team, in comparison to the crowds who turn out to witness the physical prowess displayed on the football field.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lewis, Jr. of Elm St. have announced the birth of their first child, a daughter Candace Ann, born November 21 at the Winchester Hospital, weighing 5 lbs 11 oz. The little girl will be called 'Candy', no doubt in honor of the Lewis Candy Co. owned by her paternal grandparents.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. & Mrs. Paul Lewis of Winchester, formerly of North Reading. The maternal grandparents are Mr. & Mrs. George Murdock of Reading.

VFW Notes

The regular semi-monthly meeting of VFW Post 6877, was held on Wednesday, November 23rd at Veteran's Hall.

This meeting was attended by Commander Dick Grant and Past Commanders Cal Grant and Bill Pratt of the American Legion. A joint report of the Dance and Ticket Committees of both posts was made on the results of the Veteran's Day Dance at the Hillview Country Club on November 11th. These reports marked the event as a splendid financial success. Proceeds from this affair as well as future joint affairs will be turned over to a Veterans Building Trust - for the improvement and maintenance of the building in the Common. A vote of thanks, loudly seconded by the Membership was extended to the Dance and Ticket Committees.

Program Committees of both Posts immediately announced the joint sponsorship of a children's Christmas Party on Saturday, December 17th. Attendance will be limited due to financial necessity, to children of members of either Post, children of non-member veterans accompanied by the non-member veteran and the American Legion sponsored Cub Scouts.

The children's Christmas Party Committee will consist of: C.W. Crawford, John Rohner and Albert Allen, VFW; Joseph Washburn, Cal Grant and Bill Pratt, American Legion.

The Financial Program Committee is composed of: Al Poirier, Bill Hill and Arthur Drinkwater, VFW; Bill Pratt and Dick Grant, Am. Legion. We need your 100% support. Contact your Committee now!

New members reported by Herbert Nadeau, Chairman of the Membership Committee and voted by the Post at this meeting were David R. Horsefield 4 Lindor Road, North Reading, Veteran of Overseas service during the Korean War and Robert E. Wellspring 14 Lindor Road, North Reading Air Corps Veteran of WW II, Pacific theater operations.

Assistant Quartermaster Earl Campbell gave his usual stellar performance in absence of Quartermaster Bill Burke. John Rohner served as Chaplain pro tem in the absence of Chaplain Bernie Sullivan.

Special joint meeting of both Posts has been called for Tuesday, December 6th. Subject: 'Veteran's Hall.' All officers should be in attendance.

Next regular meeting of the VFW, December 14th, 8:30 Veteran's Hall.

The local 'Y' will sponsor a splash party for youngsters in grades 9-12 Saturday night, December 3rd from 9 to 10 p.m. at the YMCA pool in Wakefield.

Debbie Davis, who is confined to her home with her leg in a cast, was able to enjoy the same pre-Thanksgiving dinner eaten by her classmates at the Batchelder School the week before Thanksgiving. Mrs. Philip Sewell, her tutor, brought the dinner to Debbie, on the same sectioned trays used in school, thanks to the co-operation of Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, cafeteria director.

CANDLE PIN CHATTER

by Tania Wullemann

The Antlers League had two extremely happy bowlers Monday night. Merle Eramo, for one, was just bubbling over with joy after rolling over with a big, fat 322 for a triple. She broke her own record in both. The other gleeful gal was none other than Mary Burt -- and why not? For she got her very first STRIKE!! Molly McKinnon, a newcomer to the league, has brought more fun to her team with her tremendous sense of humor and witty tongue. They all loves ya, Molly! Pretty soon I think that the Sun-lite Alleys are going to start harging the girls for safety pins. Why? Understand Lee Carrier was donated several the other eve and Ben Redpath this night. Well, as has been said before, they just don't stitch clothes as strong as they usta, or sumpin'.

The Five Flops of the Tuesday Jets League should certainly have their name changed to the Five BeBops with the way they are bouncing up each week. They have come up from the cellar to 3rd place. What is your secret, Pat Ciano, with your team? Our team, the Ajax, is still in the cellar -- in fact, I think we just about bubbled down Sandy's Bowladrome, Salem, the drain. Welcome to Bonnie Skidmore, a brand new member.

The PeeWee YMCA League has really some terrific bowlers in it. Looks like some of the dads that bowl in the N.R. Men's League are going to be taking second place to their sons. This week Elmer Hunt, 11, came up with a beautiful single of 114. What kind of vitamins do you give your family, Edie? Roger Wullemann is going to assist Stet Hunt on Saturdays with the PeeWee League.

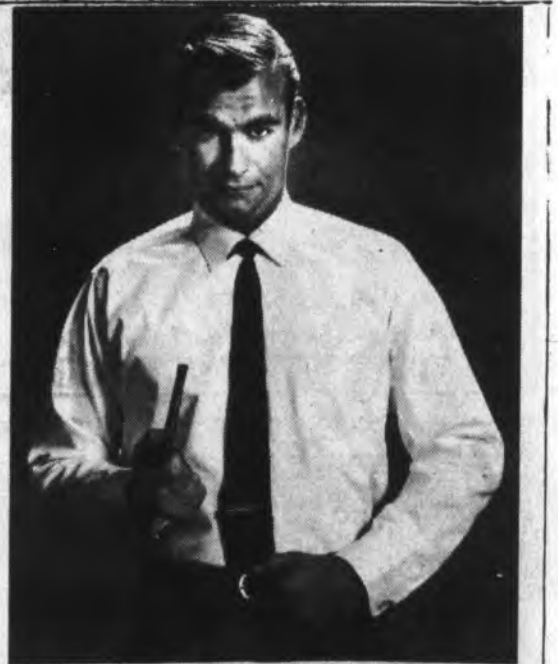

Temple Oil and Jones Bros. tied for first place team standing Tuesday night at the end of the first round. The roll off for first place will be this coming Sunday, Dec. 4 at 2 p.m., at the Wakefield Alleys. This should be a corker of a match.

The Sunday Nitters Couples League were startled by a series of war whoops. Thru the doors charged a stalwart Indian warrior in full regalia. However, Big Chief Kondrup-an-Cee-Mee-Sum-Time was there on a peaceful mission -- the presentation of the gifts to Richard and Phil Hoyt, winners of the Thanksgiving drawing. Betty Ryan is committee chairman of the Christmas banquet to be held at the Stardust Lounge on December 15 at 7:30. A delicious roast beef dinner will be served. The top 6 men and the top 6 women have their return match with the teams from Sandy's Bowladrome, Salem, N.H. this Sunday at 2 p.m. in Andover. Come on down and see us win again -- we hope!

The PeeWee YMCA League has really some terrific bowlers in it. Looks like Keeping with the Thanksgiving theme, the North Reading Sunday Nitters Couples League had the winners of the raffle presented gifts by a bonafide Indian. Cider and doughnuts were also served. Standing from left to right are: Phil Hoyt, Richard Hoyt, and Big Chief (George Kondrup).

Really Reading !!

By Donna-Lane Boudreau

Evening use of the Reading Public Library for students will probably be banned as of today. Students will be permitted to borrow books between 7 and 9 p.m., but the use of the library for study will be confined to the afternoon.

The move is an effort to overcome the congestion in the evening caused by the pupils using library facilities.

A proposal to permit students to utilize library facilities in the evening on a pass carrying basis, was rejected by the School Committee and Superintendent Robert F. Perry.

Five Africans were the guests of Reading citizens the night before Thanksgiving. The five were from a group of 20 who are touring the United States under the direction of the State Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Kiely, 13 Berkely Street were hosts to G. Longe of Nigeria, and Antoine Yamego and Pierre Guiguede of Upper Volta. Oudrage T. Bernard, finance minister of Upper Volta and Lamine Fow of the Republic of Mali were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Fandel, 381 West Street.

The arrangements for the visit were made by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Gaudet, 194 Summer Avenue. Mr. Gaudet is chairman of the Committee on International Affairs of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic men.

The YMCA sponsored basketball program for boys from age 9 to 12 started Nov. 26 and will continue each Saturday throughout the season. Instructions in the sport will be given. Older boys will be formed into teams that will play intramural basketball.

Ellen Perry, a former RMHS athlete and a student at Bouve Physical Education school, will teach girls the fundamentals of the sport beginning this Saturday, Dec. 3, at the Joshua Eaton School from 9:30 until 11 a.m. Girls must be at least 13 years of age.

December 11 is the deadline for reservations for the Meadowbrook Golf Club Children's Christmas Party to be held the following Sunday at the club. Santa Claus will be there to present gifts to each child. Refreshments and entertainment will be included.

A special tree trimming and gift wrapping party will be held for adults starting at 8:30 p.m., the night before.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. George Ducker or Ann Neilson.

The Philathea class of the First Congregational Church will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary Tuesday night with a dinner at the church. The Sunday school class is comprised of women of all ages who meet monthly.

"Africa-Giant at the Door" was the subject of the illustrated lecture given by Carl deSuzie Wednesday night. The program was under the auspices of the League of Women Voters.

A Fathers' banquet will be held by Reading Assembly No. 29 Order of Rainbow for Girls, Friday night at the Masonic Apartments. Entertainment will follow.

A public hearing will be conducted by the Board of Survey, Nov. 5, in room 14 of the Municipal Building with regards to the lines and grades of Tennyson Circle. Donald E. Florence is chairman.

Reading Square is decorated for the Christmas season. Strings of gaily colored lights are strung across the shopping area, and the common is ornamented with decorated trees. To add reverence to the festive decorations, a Nativity scene is set up on the lawn of the Reading Public Library.

Many homes have begun to be trimmed for the holidays. Noted so far are houses on Highland Street, Summer Avenue, Charles Street and Pearl Street.

The Reading Society of Craftsman will hold its annual Christmas party Dec. 5 at 1 p.m. Mrs. Carl Pittman, 23 Oak St., will be the hostess.

Miss Judith Holbrook 276 Woburn St., has been elected Queen of Reading Assembly No. 29, Order of Rainbow for Girls. She will represent the local assembly at the Grand Ball to be held in Boston.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. K. Holbrook, she is a line officer and a senior at Reading Memorial High School. Her other activities include Baton Squad, editor of the yearbook, a member of the Pilgrim Fellowship.

The annual Christmas Party of the Reading Grange will be held Dec. 14. Each member is asked to bring an inexpensive gift and a gift for a child.

The first session of the Junior Women's Club bowling began last night at the Sunlite Bowladrome at Wakefield. Mrs. Mary Legate is in charge of arrangements.

A food sale will be conducted Friday morning by Circle 8 of the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd at Wagner Brothers from 10 a.m. Proceeds will go to the Building Fund.

St., was denied a petition to operate a nursing home at 60-62 Sanborn St., by the Board of Appeal. A unanimous decision, the board felt that the nursing home would be incompatible with the general nature of the neighborhood, although the Reading Home for aged women is in the general vicinity. Acting for the Board was Gerald Fosbrooke, Thomas A. Perkins and Arnold Berger.

The first concert by the Reading Symphony held at Reading Memorial High School, Saturday night, was well attended.

Featured guests for the evening were Miss Massachusetts, Brenda Crovo, and conductor William F. Kline of the Needham Philharmonic Orchestra. Weston Brennan conducted part of the program.

The three act mystery comedy, "25 Words--Or Death" presented by the senior class at Reading Memorial high school was a success. Turning in especially fine performances were Mary Fitzpatrick and Robert Weaver. Both thespians had character roles.

Others in the cast were Richard Etling, Jeffrey Smith, Barbara Youtz, Richard Crabbendam, Donna Gillette, Pamela Emerson, Sharon Dooley and Jeremy McRell. Marion Moodie and Margaret Pierce were student directors and Arthur L. Spencer was the faculty advisor and director.

Selectman and Mrs. Ronald A. Winslow and Selectman Rudolf Sussman will attend a dinner for the Massachusetts Association of Selectmen to be held Dec. 7th at AVCO in Wilmington.

Police Sergeants John Fowler and Edward M. Hubbard have been commended for outstanding performance outside of their regular duty by the Board of Selectmen. The matter was called to the attention of the Board by a resident.

Miss Patricia Brackett, 155 Forrest St., was crowned as the 1960 Football Queen of Reading Memorial high school last week. The pretty senior reigned at the Thanksgiving game and will preside at the Cheerleaders dance to be given next month at the local school. The Queen's court included Susanne Brush, Martha Russell, Ann DeBrigard, Marie Pelligrino, Leatrice Laschi, Linda Wallin, Anne Higgins, and Virginia Ferrari.

Hospitalized this past week were Peter Bredbury, 42 Deering St., taken to the Winchester Hospital and Mrs. Townsend, 30 Bay State Rd., transported by the Police ambulance to the Melrose-Wakefield Hospital from her home.

The Board of Appeals have five hearings scheduled for December - two on the 13th and three on the 12th.

To be heard on Dec. 12 are the petitions of Hilda G. Holbrook, 276 Woburn St. who requests permission to construct an addition at her home to be used as a practitioner's office; and of Jane R. SANTA LANDS AT PLAZA

After landing Santa greets the many who came to talk with him.

Santa came down in a helicopter. Santa mentioned that he had many stops to make and many people to see between now and Christmas Eve. He also mentioned that he had a very good time talking with all the children at the Plaza and he would do his best to see that they received those gifts which they asked for.

Santa said that all the boys and girls would have to be very good between now and Christmas Eve. The pronghorn antelope can outrun a man when it is only four days old.

TOT HURT IN HOME ACCIDENT

NORTH READING. Dana Burns, two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Burns of 224 North Street, received severe cuts on her hand, wrist and arm as a result of a fall in her home Friday.

An older sister had dropped a vase on the floor, which shattered, and the toddler fell onto the broken glass.

The child was taken to the office of Dr. Mahoney, and from there to the New England Sanatorium, where many stitches were required. Because of the severity of the cuts, Dana's hand was put into a cast and she was kept overnight for observation at the hospital.

The Great Wall of China is more than 1,500 miles long.

by BETTY DOWNS

OL 8-2907

Commander Doris Mann of the DAV Auxiliary wishes to thank all those who took part in the Veteran's Day exercises.

Speaking of Doris Mann, have you noticed that sharp 1961 Chevrolet she and Mr. Mann have been sporting lately?

Congratulations to "Bill" Andrews of Woburn St., a member of the high school grounds maintenance crew celebrated his birthday on Nov. 22 at the home of his daughter (that's me) on Ayotte St.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Nally of Marion Street, are proud to announce the arrival of their son, David Michael, who was born on Nov. 7 at New England Sanitarium.

Grandparent honors are being shared by Mr. and Mrs. Tex Hancock of Dunton Road and Mr. and Mrs. William Temple of Marion St.

Would you believe it, history is about to repeat itself. In Wilmington, the Congregational Church was once the only religious building in town. In this building, members of all faiths held their worship services.

This grand old colonial structure is now the meeting place for boys of all faith in the wonderful program of Boy Scouts of America. It is soon to become the meeting place of members of Cub Scout Pack 56.

All parents and boys between the ages of 8 and 11 living in the north and west areas of town are invited to be in on the plans for a greater year for Pack 56 than ever before.

The kick-off meeting will be held on Friday, Dec. 2 at 8 p.m. at the Congregational Church. Last year's den mothers and committee-men are especially asked to town or for that area of with her mother and needed town--that is right, but this guaranteed future in if you deny one man the come therefore was reluctant to do business simply ant to have it taken from to guarantee other merchants the same opportunity --that's not right." Article 3, a seemingly 'cut and dried' issue picked up a bit of momentum when one citizen asked why a sum of money was not mentioned (the article pertains to the taking of land off Chestnut St., by eminent domain for additional well fields).

TOWN MEETING

It was felt that the town should not vote the water commissioners or the selectmen the authority to purchase land unless the people know how much money was going to be involved.

If anyone in the hall was in doubt about the money issue, being reason for voting article three down, they were given still another reason. Mrs. Swenson, the only abutter to the proposed well fields who had not completely agreed to relinquish her land spoke in her own behalf.

Mrs. Swenson recently purchased the property on Butters Row (known for many years as Appleby's Place) her land runs back to Chestnut St., and the town planned to take eleven and one-half acres of the 21 owned by her. She explained her position, her hopes for the future when she purchased the site--she would like to operate a 'tree farm' and has spoken to county extension officials about such possibilities. Mrs. Swenson lives alone Upon making the statement that she had been told there was nothing she could do about it, our town moderator quickly assured her that she certainly could do something about it, she could state her case before the people--she did and only 38 citizens voted to take her property.

Article 1, regarding the appropriation of money for radio equipment for the fire department was passed unanimously, the amount required, being $2561.75. Mr. LeRive explained that making this move at this time rather than at a later date could save the town an approximate $5000.

Article 2, an appropriation of $6923.12 for the relocation of the railroad gates on Concord Street was voted upon favorably following a brief explanation by Mr. DeFelice as to why we had to foot the cost of moving the gates and not the railroad--it was our idea to move them--we are widening Concord Street under Chapter 90 and the wider road places one gate three feet into the paved way and the other two feet. We are forcing the Boston and Maine to move them, they don't want to, so we must pay.

It was voted to continue the meeting to next Monday evening at which time article seven, the new building by-laws will be taken up.

Wilmington Victorious

Quarterback Dick Allard of Wilmington High School combined with Kevin Fields in beating Tewksbury High Thanksgiving Day. Wilmington scored both touchdowns on passes from Allard to Fields. The first TD covered 34 yards in the 1st period. The second touchdown covered 66 yards in the 4th period. Tewksbury scored their lone TD in the 4th period on a two-yard rush by John Pennino, Tewksbury quarterback. Statisticwise, Tewksbury dominated the game. Both Tewksbury and Wilmington teams are studded with underclassmen. A peek into the future appears to show two excellent teams next year.

Tewksbury scores lone touchdown. Wilmington emerges victorious, 14 to 6.

SLEIGH BELLS RINGING

The Thanksgiving season is past and Christmas is right around the corner. Football games, autumn leaves, Hallowe'en and the children becoming acclimated to school again are all a part of History 1960. We now look ahead to the most joyous month of the year. Christmas cards will soon be in the mails--gifts to the boys overseas are already on the way, snow will soon begin falling and the anniversary of Our Lord's birth is not far off.

To the many readers of the CRUSADER, we wish a Merry season and to all our new readers in Burlington, Billerica and Woburn, we greet you with a Happy Hello and hope to serve you to your satisfaction.

We would estimate an approximate 45 to 55 thousand readers beginning this week. To our new friends, as well as our old, we would like to impress upon you the heavy responsibility which lies in your individual hands.

Internationally the world stands between two major ideologies; the one attempting to control the world, the other attempting to maintain freedom for all peoples. But even more serious to us as individuals, lies the job at home of maintaining safe and peaceful communities. The thousands of people who die each year on the highways are from towns such as ours. Those who die are individuals as are we. Anyone of us could be one of those fatalities at any time unless we observe those precautions set before us by those men who have the responsibility of guiding our highways. Be especially careful of our children in the homes where many unsafe items lie. Such minor items as open safety pins, matches, ladders and medicines cause the deaths of many children each year. We wish everyone a joyous season, but it is our greatest wish that everyone who is with us to day be with us the 25th of December for a very Merry Christmas.

SANTA NEEDS HELP

For the 5th year the Boston Globe Santa Fund is underway. This fund is founded on the conviction that no child's stocking should be unfilled on Christmas morning; that no child should shed tears for the lack of toys denied by lack of funds or hardship. The Globe Santa is the intermediary between the thousands of Globe readers and those children who would only know disappointment and despair on Christmas morning. In this land of plenty there are many many who know poverty and destitution year round. We of the CRUSADER ask those people who read our paper to be generous and give to the Boston Globe Santa Fund. You will not be giving needlessly. The fund is far from being a money-making proposition. Only those who are really in need are given a very happy Christmas by the Boston Globe Santa Claus. Please remember that no donation is too small to give to the Globe Santa. To give, send check or money orders to Boston Globe Santa, Box 1525, Boston 4, Mass., or visit the Globe Santa Headquarters at 319 Washington Street.

RUMORS ARE FLYING

Many people are predicting names of people to be appointed in the Kennedy Administration. The most localized rumor is that which places the name of Concey Bonfanti in the role of being the next Ambassador to Sicily. It is an unconfirmed rumor and Concey (better known as the Sicilian Spaghetti Sauce Maker) has refused to divulge any knowledge of the situation.

It appears that the idea of small towns growing from 3 to 5 selectmen is a good one, as many towns are favoring the increase. Burlington seems to be the next town making this step.

Three cheers for the North Reading School Committee for refusing any thought of a post-season game for North Reading High School. The idea of a broken bone, or any other physical wound to these boys, is appalling.

This past week we have heard that the possibility of MDC sewerage coming into Wilmington is not unfounded. However, closer scrutinization by individuals would reveal that it is a mighty expensive proposition especially to those home-owners who have quite a bit of frontage to their property.

Did anyone read the story in the Globe concerning the Honorary Mayor of Wilmington? George Spanos, who is a literal landmark in Wilmington (having operated a diner there for many years and who is now located at Scotty's Donut Shoppe in the Wilmington Plaza) was given a fine and well-deserved writeup in Last Monday's Globe. The section was "Calling on Neighbors" by Ted Ashby.

Whatever became of the two men who were supposed to roll peanuts across Main Street in Reading? Last time we heard, the Police had refused to allow it. Good for them! A step in the right direction for safety.

At a Thanksgiving football game was heard some of the most atrocious language ever to come out of the mouths of American adult males. These once-a-year football fans appear to know more than the coaches and when things don't go their way, spew forth vile atrocities. It has happened elsewhere but none-the-less, a disgrace to the towns they represent. If the shoe fits, wear it.

While on the subject of football games--we should give credit and a hearty thank---you to those North Reading Policemen who so generously donated their time and services at the Lynnfield-North Reading football game held in Lynnfield in order to keep the thousands of people away from the playing field. Thank you. George Spanos is looking for canes and crutches. Anyone who has an extra cane or crutch call George at Scotty's.

Any place with Christmas jobs for teenagers available please give the CRUSADER a call. The first 6 teenagers to call can place an ad this coming week free of charge with the CRUSADER. Call OL 8-9000. Any type classified ad.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Dear Sir:

Re: The forthcoming North Reading town election. I would like to throw my log on the fire to help keep the political pot boiling. I have only a layman's understanding of political campaigning, but I thought I might help sharpen the voters' focus on what to look for in evaluating candidates by making the following observations:

Initially, we can expect to see the names and faces of candidates - incumbent and prospective - in the news more often. The advantage here, of course, is to the incumbents because as town officials, they are in a better position to project themselves into the news more frequently.

Keeping one's name in front of the voters at all times, of course, is an accepted political gimmick.

Naturally, we have no choice but to accept window-dressing electioneering, but we also have the responsibility to look beneath the veneer to get a true portrait of the candidate. We can do this by seeking answers to these, among many other, questions:

What does a candidate really stand for - beyond the accepted clichés of being for progress, more services, less taxes, and protection of the property owner? Does his record indicate that he understands the town's problems, and the forces at work creating them? Does he have a realistic plan or program that will help insure balanced growth for our community?

What is his record at town meetings? Did he rise to his feet to defend what the voters thought was in the town's best long-range interest? Or did he stay in a zone of silence so as not to offend any special interest voting bloc? What was his stand on the school housing question? Rezoning? The equity of the town's assessment practices? The need for re-evaluation of town properties? Laws passed by the legislature affecting the rights of cities and towns to govern their own affairs? The $17 property tax increase? The size of the school budget? The liquor question?

Is the candidate a man of strong personal conviction, unwilling to retreat an inch on an issue he is convinced is in the town's best interests? Or is he inclined to vacillate, or even hide them so as not to alienate special voting groups?

Is he inclined to be the morning-glory type of candidate - one that blooms in the morning (at election time) but fades before dark (after the voters have made their decision at the polls) or is he one who shows a year-round interest in the town's problems and is willing to devote time and effort toward their constructive solution?

North Reading's most pressing problem continues to be its future. But the town continues to suffer from the lack of a central planning group to guide it. Each Board, committee, or agency in town today is concerned with its own plans and not one is empowered to form an overall view for any of the others. This is the big issue in North Reading today related to its future, and every candidate - incumbent or prospective - has the responsibility to address himself to this problem.

Sincerely yours,
(signed) John Mitovich

Dear Editor:

I am faced with a problem in my household. I cannot seem to find a solution to this problem which not only affects me but the rest of my household as well.

My son has returned from active service of his country, having served for the past three years. Upon his return he had a job handed to him. It is a good job and pays good salary. The problem is that he expects room, board and laundry free of charge. He expects to live the life of Riley because he served his country for three stinking years. The country was not at war, but at peace and everything was hot as totsy for the country and the soldiers to boot. I don't understand why boys should come home after voluntary service and expect to live off their parents as they did prior to enlistment.

Editors Note: Well, I am not adept at coping with a situation like this. Please, if any readers can help, let's hear from you!

I should like the advice of any reader of the Crusader who has had a similar problem and has found a solution to it. Should a boy 22 years old come home from the service after 3 years fall into a good job at a good salary, and not pay room and board to his mother? He is not a boy in his teens, but a man in his 20's. He has sisters and brothers younger than he.

Please let me know, as I am at a loss.
